Have a problem between Jean and Alison

Alison (President): • I don't know what Jean is talking about. • I never asked Jean for the spreadsheet. • I never received the spreadsheet by email.

Jean (CFO): • Alison asked me to prepare the spreadsheet as part of new funding round. • Alison asked me to send the spreadsheet to her by email. • That's all I know

Questions must answer:

- When did Jean create this spreadsheet?
- How did it get from her computer to competitor's website?

- Who else from the company is involved

Hi, Jean.

I'm sorry to bother you, but I really need that information now --- this VC guy is being very insistent.
Can you please reply to this email with the information I requested --- the names, salaries, and social security numbers (SSNs) of all our current employees and intended hires?

Thanks.

Alison

Are you going to use alex@m57.biz or alison@m57.biz?

In the end, we conclude after a thorough forensics of Jean's laptop that Alison the president of the company lied that she didn't ask Jean for any spreadsheet but we have solid proof that Alison did ask Jean for the spreadsheet file and Jean did send the required document which proves that Jean was telling the truth and Alison did the treachery by leaking the confidential information and planned to put the blame on Jean
